

DAILY Actor

ADVENTURELAND by Greg Mottola

ERIC: You still thinking about graduate school? Total mistake. What do you need another degree for? Did Henry Miller need a degree? Or Samuel Beckett? Yeah, shut up, my point is – you don't come from money. Graduate school's gonna require massive loans. Three more years of school, then, what, a decade or two of paying them off? Why not blow your brains out now?

Take some time to picture the narrative of your life. Needing it or wanting money is the fundamental trap of human kind. Look, I want you to know you'll be with me in spirit this summer. Take this....

From a coat pocket, Eric produces a baggie that contains several thin, poorly-rolled joints.

Take it. You think you don't like weed. You will. Brennan, you'll be with me! In a few short months we'll be in New York City. We'll be living the adventure together!

**culled*